

Fourth Sunday of Easter

May 7, 2017

From the Desk of Rev. Msgr. Hugh J. Corrigan:

On Saturday, May 13, we will celebrate the First Communion of Fifty-Four of our children and Four adults. This is one of our most joyful days. Many thanks to our catechists who teach all our students every Saturday: Zafiro Acevedo, Roberto Mejia, Joey Pereira, Patricia Reyes, Evelyn Rosario and Iladio Serrano. Special thanks to our Coordinator, Mrs. Marisa Rivera, who has done wonderful work involving our parents in our Saturday program.

I hope you are enjoying our flowers. The season for our spectacular flowers, daffodils and tulips, is coming to an end. Look carefully in both our gardens and you will see the new blooming flowers, especially purple irises, peonies and lilies of the fields. Many of our early blooming flowers never had a chance to bloom because of the early February rise in temperature and then the sudden drop to freezing.

On May 2, we celebrated the sixty-first anniversary of Dr. Jones Salk creation of the polio vaccine. I was in the senior year of high school and it was a very joyous occasion. There were many cases of this crippling disease when I was growing up. Parents were terrified that their children would get it. We were always scared when we went into the water at Orchard Beach in the Bronx. Then suddenly we were no longer in danger. Today there are parents who are afraid of vaccinating their children. Do not be afraid; they are safe and necessary.

Stained glass windows. Did you know that our church has 85 stained glass windows? That each of our three rose windows has 25 separate sections?

Next Sunday, our Good Shepherd Arab Catholic Community will welcome Archbishop Pierbattista Pizzaballa, the Apostolic Administrator of the Latin Patriarchate in Jerusalem. He will celebrate the 12:30 Mass in St. Mary's.
